

BUSINESS WOMEN WILL LECTURE ON THEIR WORK

Coming to Virginia to Address Women and College Girls in Different Sections of State.

ALL HOLD CONSULTATIONS

Mrs. Prince, Authority on Department Store Work, to Go First to Lynchburg Where Students of Three Schools Will Hear Her.

Distinguished women representing nearly every profession and upper level of modern business will be brought to Virginia to speak this winter by the Virginia Bureau of Vocational Work.

Their coming will not only give women in Richmond and various parts of the State a vivid realization of opportunities opening today to well-prepared women, but will make it possible for them to learn in detail from the highest authorities what are the requirements for a given calling and to consult them individually as to their own aptitudes and difficulties.

Women of the highest prestige and from various sections of the country have responded so generously to the invitation of the bureau of vocational work that the cost of their coming to the State has been reduced merely to their traveling expenses.

This new phase of the work of the Bureau of Vocational Work is attracting widespread attention throughout Virginia, and it is interesting to note the wide variance in subjects that different Virginia cities subjects hear about from these speakers who are coming to the State.

Lynchburg Shows Interest.

Lynchburg, for instance, being a college town, wants to hear about medicine, advertising, journalism, banking, insurance, salesmanship, social work and public health nursing. Randolph-Macon Women's College at Lynchburg is especially interested in having the practicing woman physician and an industrial chemist come to the college with their messages to the girls.

The newly admitted women at the college of William and Mary ask for a woman lawyer, an industrial chemist and an expert employment manager.

Stuart Hall wants a physician, a writer, and an expert in advertising. Hollins wants a leader in social life, a public health nurse, an expert in salesmanship, a lecturer on opportunities in music and one on women in finance.

So, to Lynchburg, first of Virginia cities, will go Mrs. Lucinda W. Prince, a pioneer in training women for greater efficiency in department store work. Believing that education is the only way to bring the college to the women's educational and industrial union in Boston, and later with Simmons College, the school which now has a national reputation as a center for the training of department store directors in department stores. The work is now conducted in co-operation with the leading department stores of Boston.

Will Consult With Students.

Mrs. Prince is now director of the Educational Department of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, and such is the recognized value of the work she is doing that she has been invited to address chambers of commerce, boards of education and similar organizations in many of the leading cities of the United States.

It has been arranged for students not only of Randolph-Macon Women's College, but also those of Hollins and Sweet Briar to consult with Mrs. Prince while she is in Virginia at the request of the bureau of vocational work.

Elizabeth O. Toombs, associate editor of Harper's Bazaar, will speak at William and Mary, at Hollins and Stuart Hall, as well as at Randolph-Macon. Miss Toombs is also closely associated with good housekeeping in which an article of hers on "The National Federation of Business and Professional Women" appeared in October.

Dr. Katherine M. Davis, formerly superintendent of the New York State reformatory for women, now head of the New York Bureau of Social Hygiene, who is one of the foremost national authorities on social work in general, will speak at a number of the leading Virginia schools and colleges within the next few months on opportunities for women in social work today.

To Lecture on Banking.

Another of the trained women who will give Virginia women a new point of view this winter is Ella Phillips

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

PETERSBURG, Va., Oct. 25.—The grand jury of the Hustings Court which for several days has been investigating rumors of bootlegging and open liquor traffic in Petersburg, was not in session today, having adjourned over last evening to Monday afternoon, when the examination of witnesses will be resumed. Not a word has leaked out as to the nature of the testimony so far given before the grand jury, and nothing will be known until the grand jury makes its report to the court. Among the witnesses summoned for Monday afternoon are two lawyers.

Clothes Mystery Solved.

The mystery attending the finding of a child's clothing on the river bank in Pocahontas on Tuesday morning, which aroused suspicion that a child may have been drowned, has been solved by the police. The clothes were found to be the property of a woman traveling from New York to Jacksonville, Fla., the grip containing the clothes was stolen from a Pullman car on the through train for the South on Monday night at the union depot in this city. The grip of the grip has been located in Jacksonville, and the clothes will be sent to her. The detective, after discovering what the grip contained, left the clothes on a river bank and kept the grip.

Pastoral Call Accepted.

A telegram was received last night from Rev. E. C. Primm, of the Druid Park Baptist Church, Baltimore, announcing his acceptance of the call to the West End Baptist Church, in this city. The call was extended to Mr. Primm last Sunday, after he had twice preached at the West End Church. His decision gives much satisfaction to the congregation. Mr. Primm was formerly pastor of the East End Baptist Church, and has many friends here. The telegram did not state when he would come to Petersburg.

Council Fails to Meet.

The adjourned meeting of the Council scheduled for last night was not held for want of a quorum. Eleven members were present, but two more were needed to make up a quorum. In consequence, much important business, including awards of contracts for various street improvements, had to go over to the regular meeting in November. Contractors are anxious to get to work.

Fund Over-subscribed.

Two days were sufficient to complete successfully the campaign to raise Petersburg's quota of the fund for Jewish relief in Europe. Conducting the campaign reported last night that the $30,000 allotted to Petersburg had been over-subscribed by several thousand dollars. People of all denominations contributed liberally to the fund. It was a remarkable two days' campaign, and the fact that Petersburg has never failed to go "over the top" in any appeal that has been made to it.

News in Brief.

SHOW LITHOGRAPHS TODAY

Exhibit From Senefelder Club, London, to Be Shown at Miss Clark's Atelier.

Decidedly an innovation for Richmond is the announcement made last night by Miss Adele Clark that the Senefelder lithographs would be on exhibition from 4 until 6 o'clock this afternoon at the atelier of Miss Clark and Miss Houston at 118 East Franklin. Miss Clark said that in spite of the inclement weather of the last few days a great many Richmond people had already availed themselves of the privilege of examining the lithographs, but there were a great many more who were too busy on week days to take the time to see the pictures. For this reason she and Miss Houston had decided to open the atelier on a Sunday afternoon for an hour to give the splendid collection of lithographs from the Senefelder Club, London.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over 50 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures' and I have read about 'cures' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change. You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Asheiman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders and recover his strength from 'The Inner Mysteries,' now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of The Times-Dispatch wishes 'The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism' overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a postcard or letter to H. P. Clearwater, 550-A Fifth St., New York, N. Y. Send now, lest you forget! If not a sufferer, tell your friend about this and hand this good news and opportunity to some afflicted friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge whatever.—Adv.

HAD SEVERE PAINS ACROSS HER CHEST

Had a terrible cough—Took Earle's Hypo-Cod and was relieved, strengthened.

"I had a terrible cough, and it was so deep on my lungs I had severe pains across my chest and under my shoulder blades. I coughed up great chunks of mucus and blood. I had a high fever and felt miserable. I had used flaxseed and cod liver oil, but as well as mustard plasters, but I didn't seem to get any relief.

"The first bottle of Earle's Hypo-Cod relieved the congestion and reduced the fever, and also stopped the cough. After the first bottle I only coughed occasionally, I had built up my strength and appetite, and now I am hungry all the time. My nerves are much better, too, since I have been taking Earle's Hypo-Cod, and I am sure that it has done for me what I did not let others know it too. I am glad to recommend it to others, for I believe it will benefit any one."

Declared Mrs. L. M. Bryant, 1841 Venable Street, Richmond, Va.

At this time of the year there are many suffering from coughs and colds, and a run-down condition and need a good tonic to build them up and strengthen their disease-relating vitality. For this there is nothing better than Earle's Hypo-Cod, according to statements of doctors, druggists, chemists, nurses and the thousands of Earle's Hypo-Cod is not a patent medicine, the formula is on every bottle. It is put out by the nationally known Earle Chemical Co., which is assurance of quality and strength.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold everywhere by Tragle's Drug Store and the leading druggists in all nearby towns. Price, $1.20, plus 50 war tax.—Adv.
